Ten Thousand Women
March Down Avenue
In Fight for Ballot

Civilized World Sends Marchers to Brilliant Pageant That All But Overwhelms Change of Presidents—Participants Gayly Costumed.

Floats Beautiful—Men in Line.

Tableaux on Treasury Steps Tell Story of Great Struggle

Ten thousand women marchers, representing every civilized nation on earth, gave the world today its greatest peaceful demonstration known to the "vote-for-women" cause.

Garbed in costumes of every conceivable color and design, the suffragettes and hundreds of male sympathizers and supporters marched down historic Pennsylvania avenue from the Capitol to the Pan-American Union Building, while a quarter of a million people watched.

It was the most spectacular parade known to a city famed for its parades and paraders. Its equal never before has been attempted by women. It was a success, spurred with a big $5. It was witnessed and applauded by crowds no less enthusiastic than those that will tomorrow see a President of the United States become a private citizen and a private citizen be elevated to the highest position in the world.

The parade was a visible demonstration of the suffragettes in their fight for votes.
